Homecoming

Rain drives float preparations to shelter of buildings on campus

Soggy crepe paper, limp tissue flowers and rain splattered clothes testified to the hazards of building Homecoming floats in the rain. Seeking protection from Friday showers, clubs pulled their cars under covered walkways. The Pep Club Parade Committee, headed by chairman Terry Sue Tyrrell, postponed the parade as rainfall continued.

Held in Tuckahoe Junior High's gym, the annual Homecoming Dance created a fall-like atmosphere with autumn leaves and pumpkins. The Pep Club sponsored event featured The Cadillacs' rock and blues sounds. Senior princesses Debbie Blankenship, Becky Charles, Susan Dickerson, Karen Johnson, Peg O'Connor, Margaret Simpson and Bitsy Whitten received pastel nosegays. Reigning queen, Susan Smith, crowned Bitsy the 1970-71 Homecoming Queen. Bitsy and her escort, Steve Granger, waltzed to "Make It With You" during the queen's dance.

FHA's "Famished? Have a Warrior!", won first prize in the Homecoming Parade November 6. The vocal music department float placed second with an American music theme, and the Art Club's dragon received honorable mention.

Avoiding midmorning showers, the Witness staff dries the convertible's canvas top before fitting the frame. Dressed in tangerine plaid, recently crowned queen Bitsy Whitten leads annual parade. To the sound of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," vocal music delegate Pam Lindsay reigns over the second place chorus float.

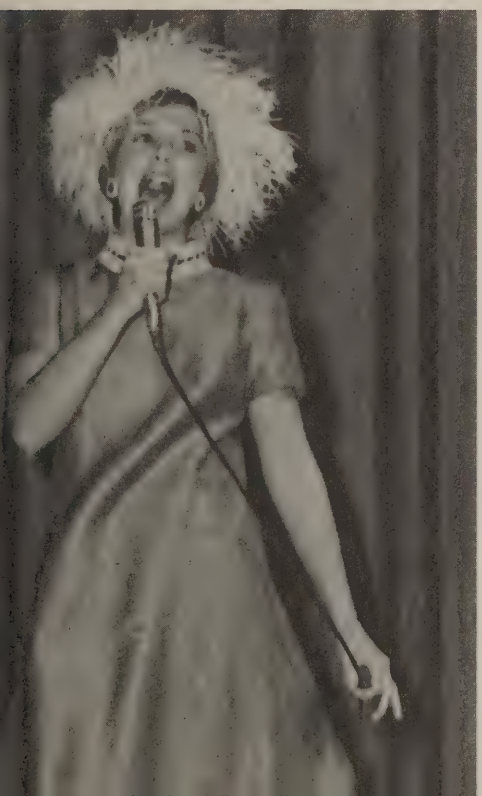
Notorious "Bloodthirsty Smith" (Mr. Shepherd) grasps the dagger as his victim (Pam Lindsay) sprawls nearby. Reptiles clinging to her body, Snake Woman (Nona Davis) holds on to a coiling artificial cottonmouth snake.

Carnival Pageant

Goblins, ghouls prowl PTA-SCA Haunted House

Cackling witches hunched over steaming cauldrons warned of the unearthly experiences lurking in Cafeteria III. Enticed into entering the J. R. Tucker Spook House and Harvest Fair by roving monsters, vampires and warlocks, passersby followed guides through the eerie hall. The supernatural pilots related tales of the bloody corpses strewn around the room. Materializing every Halloween, a mad scientist sought the formula that would destroy the world. The jointly sponsored PTA-SCA fair added $1078.72 to the PTA treasury.

Competing as finalists in the Miss Teenage Richmond Pageant, four Tucker girls performed before judges on November 14. René Holloway, Marcie and Sally Shinholser, and Terry Sue Tyrrell presented baton twirling, poetry reading, and musical routines.



Singing "Don't Rain on My Parade," Terry Sue Tyrrell competes as finalist in the Teenage Richmond Pageant.

Upon her return from a fox chase on Beau's Georgia plantation, Mame (Patti Jo Anderson) hugs a red fox

Musical

Longer skirts and low-waisted dresses-styles of the twenties and thirties-dominated the scenes, while special effects added a modern touch to the Tucker production of the Broadway play Mame. New equipment included a dimmer which illuminated eight areas of the stage and specially lighted sets. This musical, produced by the Vocal Music Department, required the construction of a permanent wall on stage for Auntie Mame's Beekman Place apartment. Former Tucker teachers Mrs. Barbara Barker and Mrs. Joyce Greenwell returned to choreograph the production. Mrs. Rebecca Hutchins directed the sewing of seventy-five percent of the costumes, and Mr. Robert Stamback produced and directed the musical based on Patrick Dennis' novel Auntie Mame.

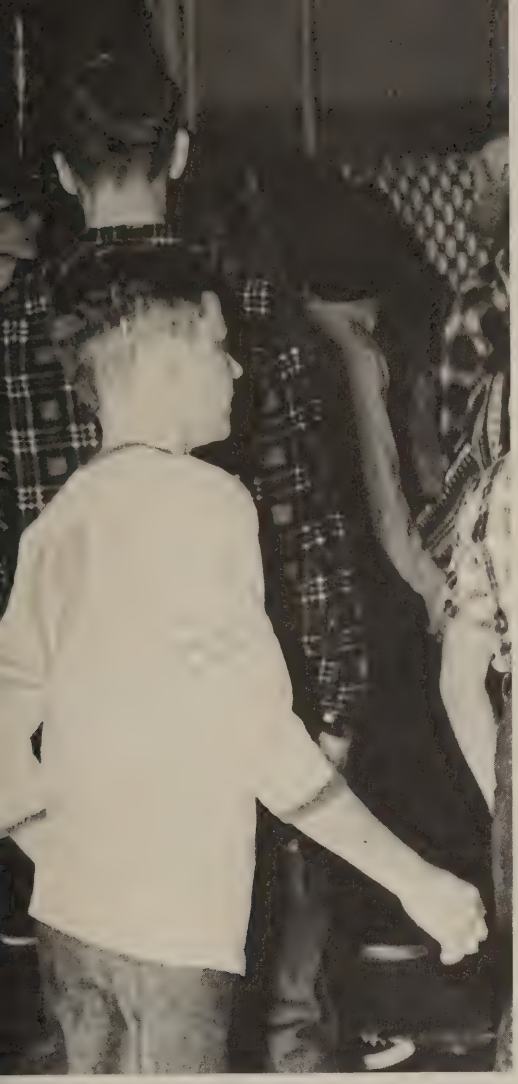
Amid wild parties, Mame Dennis (Patti Jo Anderson) raised her ten-year-old nephew, Patrick (Robert Cook) in an adult environment. After losing all her investments in the 1929 Stock Market Crash, Mame sought work as an actress, then as a manucurist. During her job in the Salon Pour Messieurs, she met her husband, Beauregard Jackson Pickett Burnside (Wayne Carter). After her marriage and the death of her husband in a skiing accident in the Alps, Mame continued to influence Patrick's life as he chose a bride and raised a family.

Sadie Hawkins

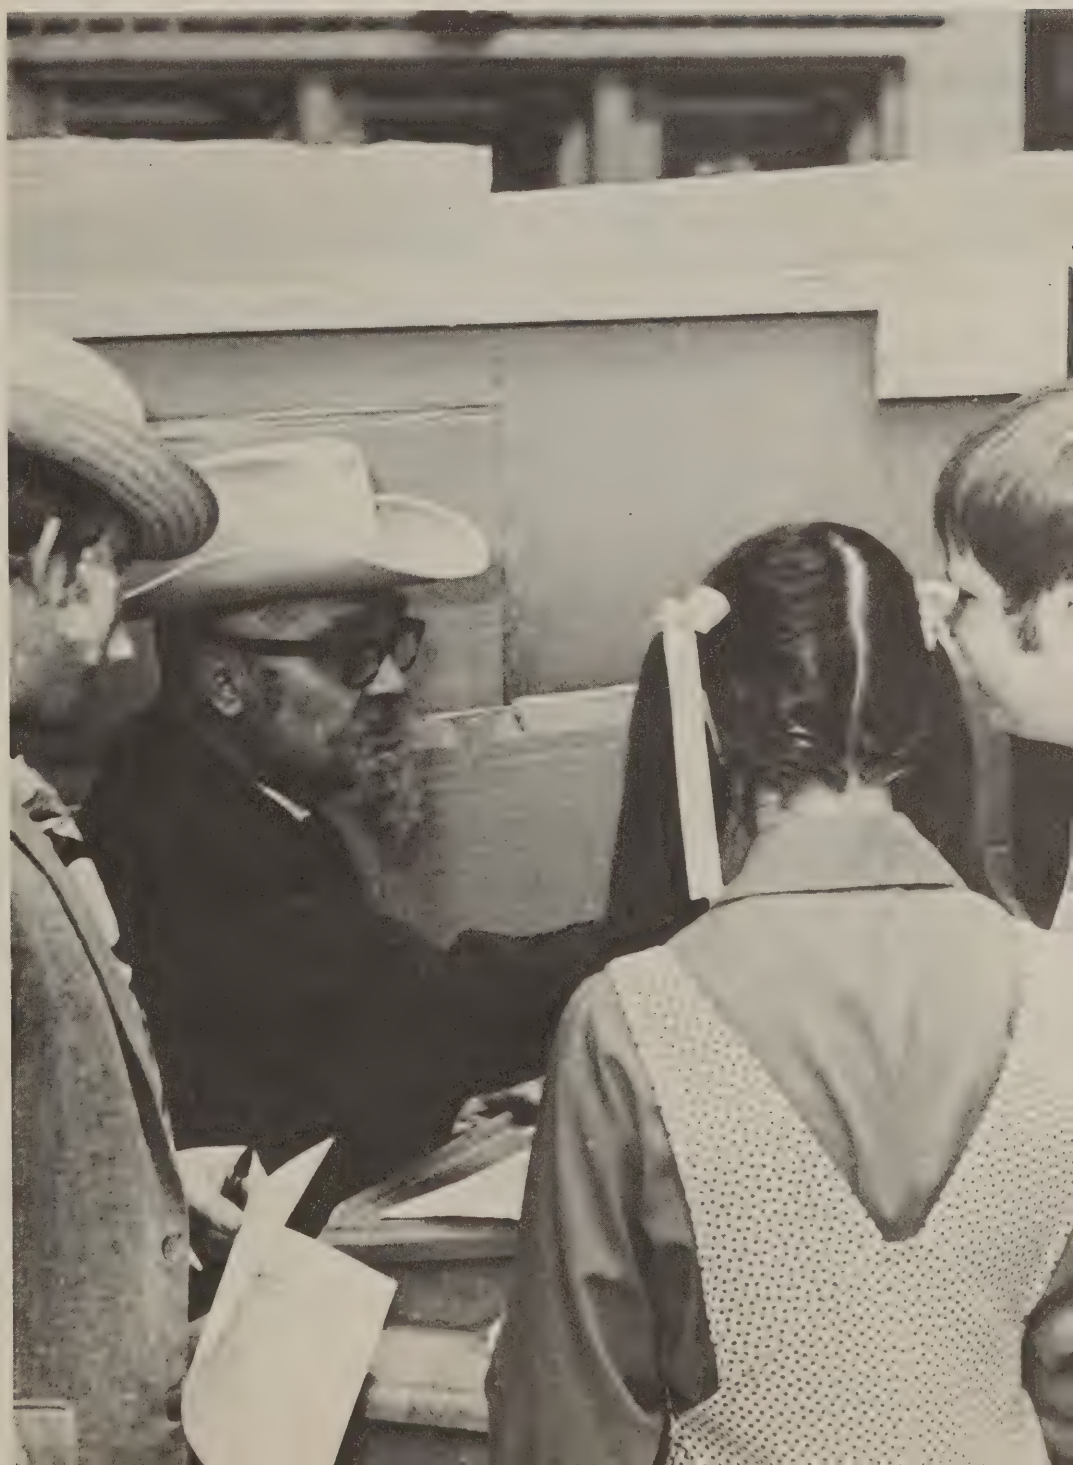
Cornpone, Stumpwater witness Dogpatch vow

Performing marriages in a rickety log shanty for a thirty-five cent fee, Marryin' Sams (Mr. Herbert Carter and Mr. Paul Williams) joined couples in "holy matrimony." Gold painted shower curtain rings served as wedding bands, and each couple received an officially sealed Dogpatch marriage license, witnessed by Cornelius Cornpone and Arnold R. Stumpwater.

Characters from two familiar comic strips, "'Lil Abner" and "Snuffy Smith," decorated walls of the Tuckahoe Junior High School gym for the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance February 20. Beginning January 23, the Junior Class decorations committee sketched and painted wat color murals every Saturday Cafeteria II. The posters depicte 'Lil Abner and Daisy Mae, Snuf Smith and the Reverend, and th Slobbovian Amp Eater. On th afternoon of the dance, th group started work in th Tuckahoe gym assembling cardboard cabin.



Reflecting on the dances of earlier days, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Vint watch the couples out on the dance floor. Jeff Lane and Alice Rogers dance to the pounding hard rock sounds of "Short Cross." Congratulating Mike Attkisson, the "lucky groom," Marryin' Sams (Mr. Carter and Mr. Williams) officiate at Gail Hudson's marriage.



Pageant, Forensics

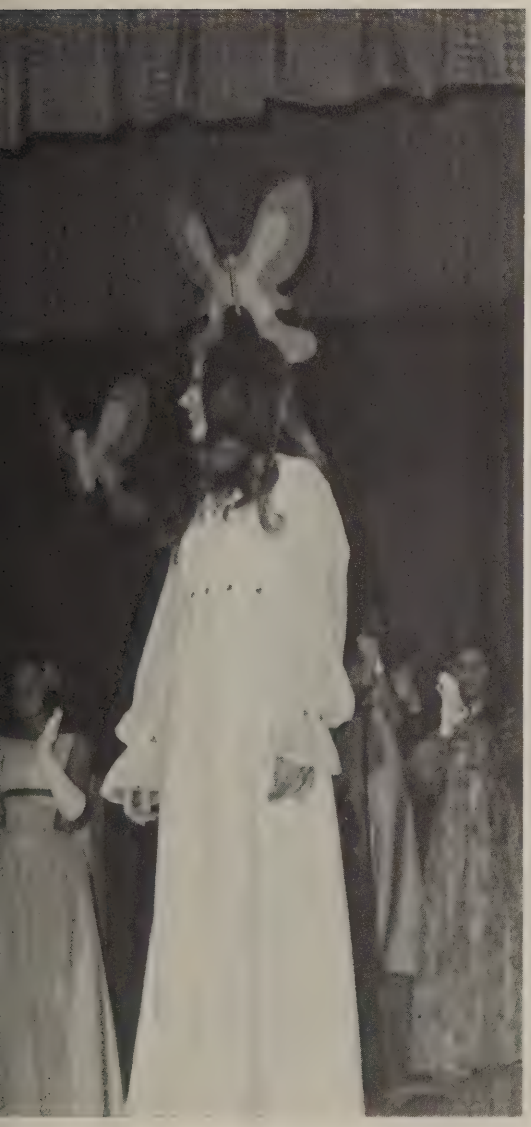
Brenda Turner wins Miss Tucker title in first annual competition

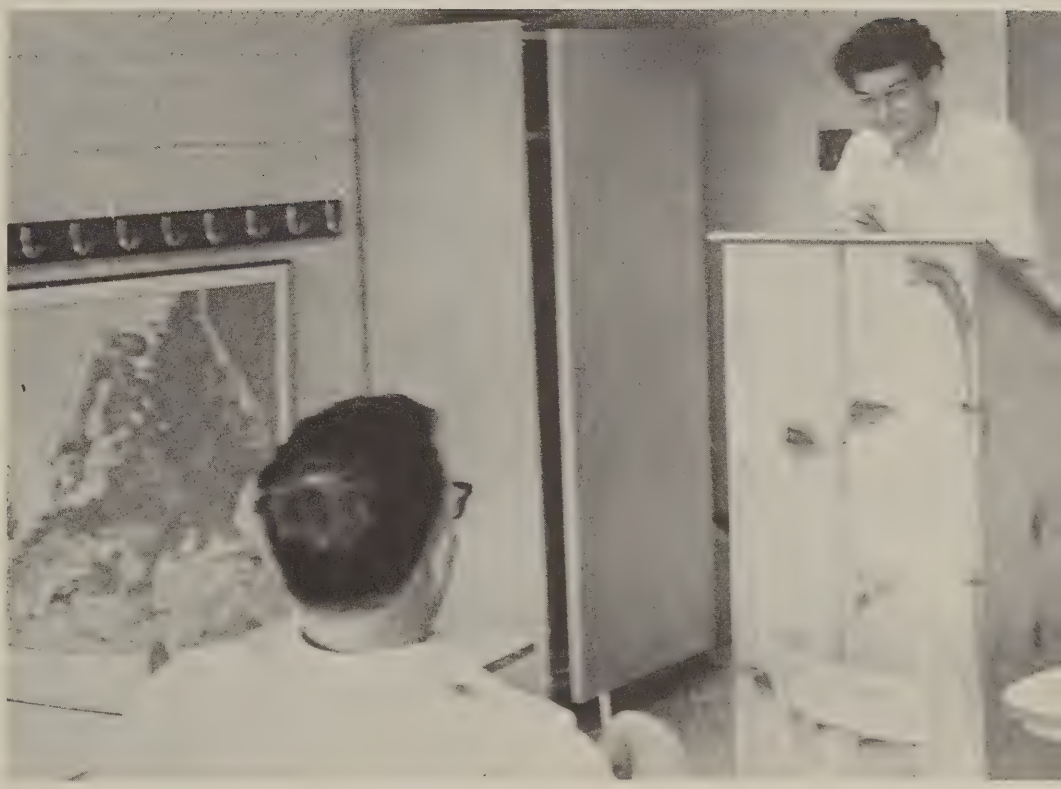
"What are the most desirable qualities a friend should have?" Mr. William Bosher asked Brenda Turner, soon to be named Miss Tucker 1971. A gold trophy and a bouquet of red roses honored the winner of the Sophomore Class sponsored pageant held May 15th.

Fluttering pastel butterflies suspended from thin strands of wire decorated the stage, and a white wrought-iron wheelbarrow filled with artificial flowers stood to the side. Mr. Bosher introduced the twenty contestants. Five judges then selected the ten semi-finalists.

After the talent competition, the judges chose five finalists: Jo Ann Beddingfield, Bev Ericson, Robin Hensley, Janis Shinholser and Brenda Turner.

In the Colonial District forensics competition at Henrico High School on April 24th. Joel Rubin took first place in extemporaneous speaking, and Bob Freeman placed first in the poetic reading competition. They both went on to compete in the state meet.





After her evening gown competition introduction, Linda Dodson proceeds forward to the center aisle runway. Master of ceremonies, Mr. William C. Bosher, announces the selection of semi-finalists. Rehearsing his speech on Red China, Joel Rubin practices with Mr. Carter for extemporaneous speaking in the district competition.

Vince Vincent smiles as Janet Cooke presents bachelorette number one, Miss Gurgle-Gurgle of Flushing, N.Y. As the kiddies welcome him, Zippo the Wonder Clown (George Habel) eyes the peanut gallery with hatred.

Variety Show

Nixon appears in guest shot on WJRT talk show

Jumbo pink curlers in her hair, a sleepy housewife shuffled down the auditorium aisle and turned on her television set. The senior class variety show entitled "The Vast Wasteland — A Day in TV" began its night of broadcasting with WJRT news, farm report and weather.

Catering to the housewives and pre-school children, the daytime schedule offered the "Jack LaLaine Show," the "Option Game," "Zippo the Wonder Clown" and "Monty Moneymaker's Mid-Day Movie." "You Don't Have to Say You're Sorry," a take-off on the many soap operas, entertained the noontime viewers.

The "Ed Sullivan Show" featuring the Flying Fuglaries, baton twirlers and two songstresses followed the evening news. Three prime time game shows — the "Dating Game," the "Newlywed Game" and "Divorce Court" — traced a couple through their courtship, marriage and divorce. With a skull cap obtained by WWBT's "Tell Doug" confining his hair, Jim Addison appeared on the "Terry Tyler Talk Show" as the peace-sign-throwing republican president, Mr. Richard M. Nixon.

Work on the script began in December. Seniors Jim Addison, George Habel, Rob Reed and Joel Rubin wrote it; George produced and directed the show. Mrs. Terry Sachs and Mrs. Leslie Gough, two senior class sponsors, helped with the comic production.

"What part of Ruby's body needs the most reducing?" brings laughs from the other Newlywed Game couples. Presenting the morning farm report, Henry Pullet (Kenny Rogers) displays a poster saying "Pigs are Beautiful."

Prom

Statue of Aquarius stands within misty vapors of dry ice fountain

Filmy clouds of mist rising from the depths of an azalea-bordered fountain enveloped a life-size statue of Aquarius at the annual Junior-Senior Prom. Blue drapes overhead formed starry skies along the entrance corridors of Holladay Elementary School. In the cafetorium, twinkling lights sparkled from angel hair clouds. Colorful wall canvasses of Taurus, Libra and Virgo proclaimed the theme — "The Age of Aquarius" — while a spotlighted sun mural, painted vivid yellows, oranges and black "let the sun shine in."

As a slowly rotating prism diffused multi-colored light onto the dance floor, the Centaurs' pounding rock music reverberated through the air-conditioned room. Hostesses in black leotards with tulle overskirts greeted the couples at the door and passed out the zodiac mug favors.

Handicapped by the unavailability of the cafetorium for early decorating, the Juniors built and painted all of the flats in the Tucker auditorium. Following lunch on Friday, the decorations committee and helpers transported all artwork and materials; then began assembling the sets and hanging the drapes at Holladay School.

Following their introduction, Becky Charles, escorted by Garland Isaacs, moves across the floor for a waltz.

During a break, long lines of guests wait in the corridor for lime punch and pieces of cake. Robin Hensley scans rows of astrological sun signs, searching for Capricorn and Gemini.

Following Mr. Doyle's introduction Senator Spong walks to the lectern. Entering the stadium to "Pomp and Circumstance," marshals Kathy Vint and Wayne Thorpe lead the senior processional to their seats of honor.

Graduation

Father Leonard bases talk on Chayefsky's Gideon

On Sunday night, Reverend Albert P. Rogers, minister of West Richmond Church of the Brethren, and Father John E. Leonard, Dean of Students at St. John Vianney Seminary delivered the Baccalaureate sermons. In his talk, Father Leonard drew a parallel between the life of Gideon and the lives of the seniors.

Wednesday evening, Mrs. Teresa Sachs announced Senior Superlatives and the seniors outlined their class history. Class president Kenny Rogers presented the class gifts: a $100.00 donation to the Astrop Memorial fund and a contribution toward carpeting the library.

During the June 10th commencement exercises, Mr. Doyle awarded Rick Wagoner the J.R. Tucker Memorial Award. Following an address by the Honorable William B. Spong, Jr., salutatorian Kenny Rogers and valedictorian Ronnie Robinson spoke on the ever changing world and "our civilization which waits for no one." After receiving their diplomas, graduates left the stadium to "Born Free."

Varsity team totals best season in Group 1A, Group AAA play

Greater use of the pass combined with running back Mike Hasting's seventy yards per game accounted for the Tiger's five-five season. Quarterback Tony Farry passed to ends Chuck Wyatt, Mike Corbin, and Jerry Gibbs for 558 yards. The triple option executed from the Wishbone-T formation bolstered the running game.

Hastings scored on two touchdown runs of four and six yards to defeat Patriots. Until the final minute thirty-nine seconds, Tucker led Freeman; an interception cost Tucker the game. A thirty-six yard Rick Jacobson field goal provided Tucker's only score in the Thomas Jefferson contest. Running backs Charlie Crosby, Rick Jacobson, and Mike Hastings combined for 228 yards on the ground against Varina. At Lee-Davis, defensive end David Burns blocked a punt. Linebacker Kenny Barnhill recovered it, running for a touchdown. Maintaining their lead, the defense stopped both Confederate conversions. Jacobson scored the other touchdown on an eight yard sprint. Completing the season, Mike Corbin grabbed a twenty-five yard touchdown pass to defeat Highland Springs.

Mark Shoemaker sneaks ninth grade to sole wi

Victorious in one of seven starts, the ninth grade team defeated Collegiate's squad. Quarterback Mark Shoemaker scored both touchdowns on sneaks. The Tiger defense chalked up two more points on a safety. After losing the first two games, coaches Ed Sweeney and John Rollingson changed line-ups for both offense and defense. End of season injuries side-lined starters Jack Thornton and David Turner. Rodney Hale and Norman Blount replaced Shoemaker in the season's closer. Mark Shoemaker finished as high scorer with 18 points, and halfback Bill Melton trailed by eight.

The thirty-six power wing left play provided the eighth grade with its sole victory. In this game against St. Christopher's, fullback Bob Luck scored the first touchdown, and set up anothe Luck hurled a thirty yard pass t Bill Miller; Randy Warren carrie for the score. Long, last second goals defeat Springers, Patriots

A victory over Patrick Henry in the season closer netted the Tigers second place in the Colonial District. Tucker trailed the Patriots 67-65 with seven seconds showing on the clock. Receiving an inbound pass, guard Jay Barden dribbled to half-court. His 30-foot basket sent the game into overtime. Tucker controlled the tap and outscored the Patriots to gain the number two tournament seed.

During the Highland Springs game, forward Rick Wagoner hit a 25-foot field goal with 29 seconds remaining to give the Tigers a one-point lead. Wagoner then raced to the other end of the court, grabbed the rebound and held the ball, assuring the Springers' only defeat in district competition.

Opening the season with four wins, Tucker crushed Freeman in the third period; they outscored the Rebels by 15 points. Foul shots dominating the game, Highland Springs squeaked by the Tigers with 3 points. Tucker finished the season with a 13-5 overall and a 9-3 district record, losing the district games by a three point average.

In the first game of the Colonial District tournament, Tucker halted a Lee-Davis comeback. The Tigers traveled to Randolph-Macon to tangle with the Patriots. Patrick Henry jumped off to a quick lead and maintained the spread until the fourth quarter. Trailing by 9 points, the Tigers initiated a comeback with Pat Vines' accurate shooting. Although Tucker led at one time, the game ended in a tie. Patrick Henry outscored the Tigers by one basket in overtime, ending our hopes for a regional berth.

Ricky Wagoner nets 1,161 total points in career

For the second year in a row, the Richmond sportswriters elected Rick Wagoner to the All-Central Regional second team. Earning a position on the All-Colonial District first team, Wagoner led the Tigers in scoring and rebounding. He averaged a 18.8 points per game and snatched a total of 245 rebounds during the season. Pat Vines trailed with 11.6 points and 103 rebounds. Senior team captain Rick Wagoner amassed 1,161 points in his career.

Despite a kidney operation, Jen Connell grabbed 152 rebounds and totaled 1,013 career points. He consistently placed among the top ten scorers in the district with an 11.6 point average. Junior guard Bill Frye averaged 6.1 points and grabbed 96 rebounds. Mike Burton, Jay Barden and Vince Vincent accounted for the Tigers remaining 15 points per game.

Basketball

JV team places 3rd in Colonial District rankings

As the season's end approached, the junior varsity team revenged a 54-53 loss to Tidewater Academy by defeating the Patriots 72-54. They continued their winning spree, defeating Lee Davis and outscoring the Confederates 66-36. The sophomore Tigers ended their season with an 11-8 record.

In the first game of the season, the freshman team romped over the Varina Blue Devils 73-36, racking up their biggest victory. Led by top scorers Steve Burnett, Mike Challenor and John Ward, the ninth graders finished with a 9-12 season.

Backing up the eighth grade team, W. J. Patterson and Randy Warren combined for a 321 point total. Terry Bias led in foul line scoring with a 63% shot completion from the charity strip. The team closed the season with an 8-10 record, winning four of their last five games after the 59-25 Albert H. Hill defeat.

Barden leads squad in batting; earns All-Regional outfield spot

Behind the pitching and hitting of senior Jay Barden, the varsity baseball team placed fourth in the district competition. Barden led the squad in batting with a .412 average. Named to the All-Regional second team by area coaches and sports-writers, Jay Barden held the team record for the lowest earned run average. Barden also pitched the Tigers' only shutout, defeating the Patrick Henry Patriots 9 to 0.

In his third year as catcher, Doug Lynch followed Barden with a .348 batting average; David Levy and Mike Corbin accounted for the varsity squad's two home runs. Lynch and Corbin earned All-Regional honorable mention.

Eleven men on the varsity team received letters or bars.

Mile relay team establishes all-time 3:31.8 record

The varsity mile relay team, omposed of Mike Hastings, Keith Mawyer, David Waller and tuart Connock, set a new chool record of 3:31.8. Connock also established a new istrict record in the 220 yard ash and qualified for the State nvitational. Competing in the tate meet held in Williamsburg, ophomore two miler Steve ainter placed fourteenth.

Nick Crosby captured his rother Charlie's all-time second lace Tucker record for the shot ut with a 52 ft. 6 in. throw, moving Charlie into the number three position. Ranked sixth in the school for pole vaulting, Billy Raabe worked up to 10 ft. in his first year of vaulting. Rounding out the squad, miler Andy Hardy turned in a 4:39 time — third best in all-time Tucker competition.

Despite an injury to Gene Taylor, the varsity track team finished the season with a 4-3 record. Taylor — who held fourth place in the school for pole vaulting — broke his wrist during the Benedictine meet and could not jump for the remainder of the year. After Gene's injury, Raabe replaced him as pole vaulter.

The junior varsity track team posted a 1-5 record, defeating St. Christopher's 84 to 47. One of the nine returning team members, sophomore Tucker Brown broke his own triple jump record of 37 ft. 3 in. in a match with St. Christopher's. Leaping 5 ft. 7 in., Asel Johnson tied the high jump record during the Tuckahoe meet early in the season.

Team boasts undefeated season; wins Colonial championship title

Downing arch rival Douglas Southall Freeman 5-4 and 7-2, the tennis team captured the Colonial District crown. Twenty-five Tiger fans watched as the fifteen man squad earned the Colonial District championship. Before losing in the state championship competition, the team boasted a 10-0 season record.

Craig Huggins and Ricky Perkins went the entire season undefeated in all matches. For the fourth consecutive year, senior Fred Brown retained the number one position. In his starting year, freshman Johnny Tate ranked fourth, and Glen Diersen atained the third berth. The squad played each other before the opening matches to determine their positions. During the season, they could challenge each other for their spots, thereby spurring competition among members.

Central Regionals second place earns Tigers State tournament bid

In the Central at Prince George, Tucker linksmen tied Freeman for the first place honor, but lost in the one-hole play-off. The golfers — with a combined total score of 647 — took seventh place in the state matches at the pond-studded Lake Wright course.

Starting the golf team three years ago as a sophomore, Ronnie Robinson co-headed the golfers with co-captain Jeff Flax in a 9-4 season. The Tigers also placed fifth in the Quantico Invitational against thirty-seven participating teams.

Flax received the trophy for the lowest individual scorer on the team; he had a record of eight wins, three losses, and two ties. Letters or bars went to the other members at the spring sports banquet.

Concern over air pollution prompts Bicycle Day

Pedaling to school as part of heir Senior Week activities, Class of '71 members joined in he nationwide observance of arth Week. A fried chicken unch and free ice cream to class ard holders revived the ipperclassmen after their biking efforts. During their Wednesday each-in, seniors instructed their lasses in a "subject-off-the-ubject," and donned offbeat eadgear. Cowboy hats, pop-guns and jeans distinguished the twelfth grade students on Wild West Day.

"Know the truth/And the truth shall make us free/Know the way," proclaimed members of the Senior Court. Forming a clock with a revolving minute hand, the couples continued their recitation with "To everything there is a season/And a time to every purpose under heaven . . . " The twenty-four waltzed to "I'm Not Afraid" composed and sung by Rod McKuen.

"The Vast Wasteland: A Day in TV," the class-sponsored variety show, grossed approximately $1800.00 — the largest profit earned since the beginning of the annual event. The Class of '71 donated $200.00 to the school's treasury to provide for installation of a new sound system in the auditorium.

Sophomore Class

Class of '73 presents first 'Miss Tucker' beauty, talent contention

Beauty, talent and poise exemplified the qualities of the 1971 "Miss Tucker." The sophomore class organized the school's first "Miss Tucker" pageant at the suggestion of sponsor Mrs. Joan Smith. All girls who wished to enter filled out applications due April 9th. Five judges rated the contestants in beauty, talent, poise and evening gown competitions. Mr. William Bosher served as the Master of Ceremonies, and Mr. William Caldwell built the necessary props. Following a May 14th interview at the home of council member Nathan Newman, judges selected the semi-finalists.

The class featured the music of Smoke and Steel in two cafeteria post football game soc hops. Receipts from this event yielded a $210.00 profit for the sophomores.

Freshman class conducts car wash in November

Earning $70.50, the freshman class sponsored a car wash at Jenkin's Esso on November 7th. The $25 prize awarded for placing third in the November SCA magazine drive further boosted the class funds to $378. To rally student interest, the officers held a meeting in the auditorium explaining their goal of the largest ninth grade treasury in Tucker's history. After the meeting, volunteers signed up to bake goods for the March 17th bake sale.

Rubin's classes see Math-Science Center facilities

Boarding a school bus for an April 5th field trip, Mrs. Evelyn Rubin's accelerated Math classes departed for a tour of the Math-Science Center. The group learned about the variety of summer courses offered to students interested in such fields as calculus and data processing. During a computer programming demonstration, the guide used card input to print a picture of Snoopy. When the programmer inserted the proper punch cards, the IBM computer sang "Dixie."

A class sponsored doughnut sale grossed the eighth grade $33.00 with a 20.00 dollar net profit. This sum increased the balance for the Class of '75.

Seventh Grade increases treasury with 25¢ dues

Faced with the prospect of redistricting and the conversion of Tucker to a senior high for the 1971-72 school year, the Seventh Grade's major projects involved moneymaking. Each student paid class dues of twenty-five cents, clearing $50.00 for the empty treasury. The SCA awarded the class the $150.00 first prize for the most magazine sales in the fall SCA Magazine Drive. A victim of the Three Chopt West apartment complex fire on January 7th, Mr. Jerry Whitt received a $25.00 check drawn from the seventh grade treasury.

Trips to Air Force Bases provide Mr. Doyle with summer studies

Soaring through the skies to Andrews Air Force Base, Dulles International Airport, Patrick Air Force Base and NASA's Space Center, Principal B.T. Doyle learned the fundamentals of aerospace during a Virginia Commonwealth University Education course. While earning hours to renew his professional certificate, Mr. Doyle spent two days in Coco Beach, Florida, and visited the facilities at Cape Kennedy with a special protocol guide.

Part time handyman Glenn I. Morris constructed his four bedroom rancher and repaired faulty electrical circuits. An aeronautics enthusiast, Mr. Morris toured the NASA Space Center at Cape Kennedy. Weekend trips to hunt geese, duck, and squirrel and to fish with his wife at Falling Creek Reservoir offered diversions from school responsibilities.

Shaking ladders, clanking buckets and splattering paint, Mr. William Caldwell and Mr. Hobby Neale painted their homes in July. On Saturday afternoons, Mr. Neale and Mr. Caldwell played basketball with other faculty members: Ronald Atkins, William Bosher, Raymond Crescenzo, and Richard Foster.

Guidance counselor visits Rome, sees Verdi's Italian opera "Aida"

Roman conquerors in horsedrawn chariots thundered across the stage to the triumphal marching music of Aida. Seated amist Roman ruins, Mrs. Helen Deck listened to Verdi's opera, watching the spectacular parade of elephants, slaves and victors. During her stop-off in London, Mrs. Deck attended a prayer service in Westminster Abbey.

Accompanying her psychiatrist husband, Mrs. Ellen Woodall attended the National Association of Psychiatrists and Psychiatric Hospitals at Key Bicayne, Florida. Mrs. Woodall heard speakers discuss the problems of drug abuse in schools and communities.

Last summer, Mr. William Gilliam learned "hang ten" could be difficult when he tried surfing during his Virginia Beach vacation. While in Los Angeles, he visited Disneyland.

Clad in a pale pink wedding gown Mrs. Henry E. Ford and her husband leave Third Presbyterian Church for a reception at Richmond Country Club. Celebrating William Cleveland Bosher III's birth, Mr. Bill Bosher hands Mr. Thompson a commemorative cigar.

Bosher presides over workshop at Dallas, Texas, NACC meeting

Serving as youth counselor at Fairmount Baptist Church, Mr. William Bosher received an all expense paid invitation to the North American Christian Convention in Dallas, Texas. Mr. Bosher presided over a July 8th, 1971 workshop dealing with the topic "Planning Youth Activities and Meetings in the Larger Church."

Miss Nancy Bourne played softball on the Skipwith Methodist Church team, covering second base and the outfield. She and a group of friends organized a city softball team.

An accomplished seamstress, Mrs. Vicki Ford designed a green wool dress with dark green crepe sleeves and a neck scarf for herself. Averaging a week to complete an outfit, she made Mr. Henry Ford a three button navy blue dacron cotton sports coat last summer. Mrs. Ford also created a multi-colored vest for her husband by using one of her own vest patterns.

Mrs. Anne Venturino served as corresponding secretary for the Bon Air Community Association, a civic organization which took stands on the consolidation issue, clean air, and recreational activities. Elected by the 400 member families, she recorded minutes of the eight meetings.

Purchasing bicycles in late March, Mrs. Brenda Nuara and her husband rode around their English Hills Apartments home. Before their July move to Camp LeJeune near Jacksonville, North Carolina, the couple vacationed in Williamsburg. They biked through the restored area and nearby countryside.

Dessenberger offers recipes for "cheapie meals"

"Lobsters à la Al" and a gourmet's "cheapie meal" ranked high on Mr. Alan Dessenberger's list of culinary creations. An accomplished cook, he specialized in outdoor cookery, devising grill recipes for steamed lobsters and clams stuffed with crabmeat. Hamburgers sauteed in wine with mushrooms comprised Mr. Dessenberger's economy dinner.

High bidder at an antique auction, Mrs. Leslie Gough purchased a scroll-armed couch in March. Stitching luggage rack supports and chair seats, she created gifts and household articles.

Mrs. Joan Smith and her husband received a license for fur farming and planned to purchase foxes and minks. The couple spent time water skiing, swimming, and boating during their Bahama vacation.

Continuing her studies, Mrs. Evelyn Rubin attended an eight week seminar at Virginia Polytechnic Institute. She completed courses in Abstract Algebra and Math Analysis while staying at the Blacksburg campus.

Mathematics. Front row: Constance Hinson, Algebra I, General Math 8, Modern Math 8. Mrs. Joan Smith, Basic Geometry, Geometry. Mrs. Margaret Penton, General Math 8, Modern Math 8. Puerto Rico native Mrs. Shelton boats with Rappahannock Club

Manning a twenty-five foot sailboat, Mrs. Nievelyn Shelton, a native of Puerto Rico, and her family sailed with the Rappahannock Yacht Club. A former social worker, Mrs. Shelton previously taught at Varina. Mrs. Anne O'Leary expressed interest in modern dance interpretations and all kinds of poetry from Shakespeare to Tennyson.

Latin instructor Mr. Nicholas Kalafatis, who replaced Mrs. Patricia Pace during first semester, claimed an interest in mystery films. A movie fan, he watched many Flint and James Bond productions. Living in Germany for six years, Mrs. Sandra Hurdelbrink studied in Munich.

With her interest in current affairs and a season ticket to the Richmond Public Forum, Mrs. Ruby Neagle heard Dr. S.I. Hayakawa speak on campus unrest, Mr. David Frost mediate a pollution discussion and famed science fiction author Dr. Isaac Asimov speculate about the year 2071. Miss Elizabeth Bowles spent a week with friends in Frankfurt, Germany, and revisited Paris and London on her third trip abroad.

Bradshaws renovate pre-Revolutionary War house

The smell of varnish permeating the house, Mrs. Jill Bradshaw and her husband refinished the floors of their newly purchased home. Located in Fluvanna County, the 1740 story-and-a-half house proved more work to restore than the couple originally thought. During the Easter vacation, the Bradshaws moved into their four room farmhouse.

Riding and showing horses for twenty years, Mrs. Judy O'Bier worked at Lithgow Farm last summer where she broke and schooled two-year-old Welsh thoroughbred ponies. The proprietor of a one-and-a-half acre estate including a stable and two horse playpens, Mrs. O'Bier taught riding, raised and trained horses. While on a trip in the fall, she purchased two quarter horses from the Arkansas show.

Mr. Bowie Shepherd attended the sixteen week Wednesday night woodworking course offered at Tucker during second semester. His class project — matching end tables — took him approximately the entire semester to construct. Having completed a woodworking course two years ago, Mr. Shepherd also built a mahogany table for his hall.

Developed while serving in the Air Force, Mr. John Behrens' photography hobby led him to purchase three 35mm cameras — an AGFA, an EXA, an EXAKRA — and an IKOFLEX. Closeups of small objects serving as his main subjects, Mr. Behrens used his own enlarger to blow up the snapshots for mounting.

Training Epic — a direct descendant of Man O'War — to canter on command, Mrs. Judy O'Bier uses a lead rope. Under Mr. Ronald Atkins' instruction, Mr. Shepherd measures the dimensions of a mahogany end table top.

Government teacher appears at Boar's Head Inn

Crowds at the Boar's Head Club and the Gaslight Court Stables Restaurant in Charlottesville listened to Miss Diane Miller's rock, folk and country music selections. Accompanying herself on the piano, Miss Miller worked at the club for the past two summers.

Showing driver education films to his classes, Mr. James Johnston recorded the effects of the movies on the viewers' attitudes and responses for a thesis safety survey. Research for the paper, a part of the requirements for his Masters' Degree in Industrial Psychology, uncovered peoples' varying reactions before and after seeing the films. He took courses in Advanced Educational Psychology and Industrial Psychology at Virginia Commonwealth University.

Mr. Stephen Galyen pursued book shops, antique dealers and auctions searching out rare books to add to his collection. An 1845 edition of The Rise and Fall of the Roman Empire by Gibbons ranked among his acquisitions.

A volume of 1876 Richmond Daily Dispatch provices Mr. Galyen with a view of the Hayes-Tilden controversy.

Cultural, anthropological surveys in Peru, Chile lure Mrs. Torstrick

Primitive static existence induced Mrs. Shirley Torstrick to conduct cultural and sociological surveys among the Indians of Peru to complete credits in anthropology courses at the University of Chile. She and her family lived twelve years in Chile and Costa Rica. In addition, she visited every country in the Western Hemisphere. Throughout her travels she collected native dishes to expand her experience in gourmet cooking. Her recipes extend from traditional Latin American delicacies to ancient Peruvian foodstuffs.

Upon her return to the United States one-and-one-half years ago, her studies turned to Special Education. Classes at VCU enabled her to obtain her Master of Arts degree while teaching Special Education at Tucker.

Economics instructor journeys to Portugal, Spain, northern Africa

Climbing over the ruins of Moorish fortresses and sightseeing through the rolling countryside, Mrs. Juanita Kennerly journeyed to Portugal, Spain, and Northern Africa via a Boeing 747 during the summer months. A Sunday school teacher and youth fellowship director, Mrs. Kennerly also participated in workshop services at the Virginia Home.

Mrs. Nancy Plunkett also toured outside the United States. She and her husband spent seven weeks traveling through Canada, Kitomat, British Columbia and Alaska. Upon arriving in Vancouver, Canada, they boarded a ferry and crossed along the inland waterway to Alaska where the couple camped and fished.

Mr. William Townsend completed his Masters Degree in business education at Virginia Commonwealth University in August.

Student government amends election procedure

Passing a constitutional amendment, the SCA altered the election nomination procedures. Instead of the homerooms determining them, the potential candidates signed sheets stating that they wished to run and listed the office of their choice. A general SCA meeting reviewed the registrants' qualifications and announced the candidates.

The association sponsored a school-wide paper pollution campaign. Collecting old paper, they sent it to Goldman Paper Stock Co. for reprocessing.

Representatives attended the Regional SCA Conference held at Thomas Jefferson. The delegates met with members from other schools to exchange ideas on improving the student government. Treasurer Rob Reed and Ira Ruby led a discussion concerning methods of raising funds.

Held annually, the magazine drive — the SCA's major money making project — cleared $1,829.35. Boasting the wealthiest treasury in the Richmond area, the organization further increased its funds through the Halloween Carnival. Profits from the projects increased the AFS fund to $2000.

At a privately held cermony, the group installed eighteen appointees, including Miss Elizabeth Bowles, Witness business advisor, Miss Nancy Bourne, Gavel sponsor and Mrs. Anne Venturino, Hearing advisor.

Club representatives comprising its membership, the Inter Club Council functioned as liason between the administration and the organizations. The SCA dissolved the ICC into a committee second semester, citing the lack of duties as the reason.

Beta Club sponsors locker room clean-up for campus evaluation

In preparation for Tucker's first evaluation, the Beta Club encouraged student involvement in a locker clean-up project. Members brought boxes from home and positioned them in Building 10 and the locker rooms.

The State Beta Club convention gave members an opportunity to elect new officers and dine and dance during their March meeting at the Hotel John Marshall.

Upon entering the Beta Club, members paid $6.00 dues. One dollar remained in the chapter treasury, and the remaining five covered a subscription to the National Beta Club Journal, as well as purchased the black and gold lapel pins.

Commending qualities of scholarship, leadership, service and character the National Honor Society selected juniors only in their annual late spring tapping. New members continued a tutoring program in its third year. A fee of $2.00 per hour accompanied their instruction, part of which went to the treasury.

Pom-pom sales net $100 profit for dance costs

Five hundred orange and blue pom-poms ordered from Wincraft Company Incorporated grossed the Pep Club one hundred dollars. Sold during football games and fall pep rallies, the shakers cost students fifty cents apiece. The Homecoming committee used the profits to help meet the expenses of the parade and dance.

Mimeographing the cheer of the week selected by the cheerleaders, Pep Club members passed them out during pep rallies to encourage competition yells. The club also handed out copies of the Alma Mater and the Fight Song.

Handicapped by the lack of home basketball games, the Monogram Club abandoned its major project— manning a refreshment stand and coat check. The group donated $1800.00 toward the purchase of a $2700.00 weight machine. Set up in the field house, athletes used the equipment in their isometric program supervised by Coach Fred Wells.

Squad sponsors weekly contests throughout fall football season

Who can identify the "mystery Tiger"? Naming this tiger, finding the most confederate flags and decoding a secret message to the football team spurred competition among students when the varsity cheerleaders sponsored weekly contests to encourage spirit. The squad awarded cash prizes in the challenges and entertained students with an original pep rally skit, "Twas the Day Before the Freeman Game."

As a gift to the school, the squad purchased white canvas signs for the press box reading "J.R. Tucker — Home of the Tigers" on one side, and the other side changing to advertise school activities.

When not cheering, the girls volunteered to collect for the March of Dimes and met at Thalhimers downtown to ask for donations. They also served at the football and basketball athletic banquets in Cafeteria II.

FCA members travel to summer camp in Lancaster, Pennsylvania

During late June 1970, eight members represented Tucker's Fellowship of Christian Athletes at an FCA camp in Lancaster, Pennsylvania. Early morning exercise sessions, silent prayer periods and discussions with college and professional athletes filled the week's schedule. Competing in the "Dogpatch Olympics," the campers formed "huddle groups" to play volleyball, in-lying soccer, and football.

Need for YMCA facilities in the West-End and improvement of old centers prompted speeches by Hi-Y member Tony Farry. He urged community groups to actively support the YMCA by recounting the benefits they received as Y member.

Charging a dollar per car wash, Hi-Y members earned money which they donated to the March of Dimes. Twice monthly, the group washed cars at Jenkins American Oil. The Hi-Y placed boxes in homerooms to launch a food, clothing, and toy drive for the Christmas Mother. They used the monetary contributions to purchase gifts for teenagers they adopted during the holidays.

$5500 proceeds, donations pay for vacation trip to Sun Fun Festival

Peddling fruitcakes, booster tickets with imprinted athletic schedules, blue vinyl cushions, and candy bars financed a summer trip to Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, where the band marched in the Sun and Fun Festival. In addition to the $5,500.00 earned from fund raising projects, the band received $100.00 donations for performances in the yearly Thalhimer's Toy Parade, Virginia Commonwealth University and Randolph Macon College homecoming festivities.

After serving as the Grand Marshall band in the Ashland Christmas Parade, the marching unit appeared at Cary Band Day in North Carolina. The band also performed during the April Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester and the 600 unit Cherry Blossom Festival Parade in Washington, D.C.

National Tobacco Festival Parade officials chose the 156-member band to march during its ten minute pre-game show. Invited by the Virginia Commonwealth University Athletic Department to entertain at their Homecoming, the band and Majorettes formed a large heart in the center of the football field. The squad joined the band for a pregame performance at the Tobacco Bowl.

Orange and blue banners cut through the air as the Pom Pom Girls executed a flag routine and drill to the band's rendition of "Love Theme From Romeo and Juliet." The group worked up the halftime show in summer practice sessions. During the Homecoming game, the squad marketed candy and candied apples; the girls used the proceeds reaped to puchase reindeer heads which they appliqued on their uniforms.

Accompanied by the band, both the Majorettes and Pom Pom squads participated in outdoor football pep rallies and basketball season rallies in the auditorium. The marching band and girls competed against other area schools in the Richmond All-Band Day. A panel of local judges, elected from area musical talent awarded the group a second place rating in the City Stadium competition.

Concert Chorus, Novettes

Thirteen choir members perform in Europe with national chorus

Mr. John Jennings, director of the Indian Springs High School Glee Club which appeared at Tucker on March 11, invited the Concert Chorus members to join a choral group. Made up of singers from throughout the United States, the chorus toured Europe during summer vacation. They presented five concerts under Mr. Jennings' direction. Thirteen Tucker chorus members signed up for the trip.

The entire ensemble went to the All-County Chorus, and sixteen attended the All-Regional event. At the end of April, Garland Isaacs and Laura New participated in the All-State Chorus.

Working out their own choreography and blocking, the Novettes offered a repertoire which ranged from current hits to religious songs. The ensemble performed for several area civic associations and groups including appearances at the Lions' Club and Jaycees. Helping Santa pass out presents to underprivileged children, the Novettes sang at the annual Jaycees' Christmas party and shared refreshments with members.

Ninth Grade, Eighth Grade Chorus

Chorus performs for elementary school students

Singing "Scarlet Ribbons" and "Wind From the East," the Ninth Grade Chorus performed at Longan and Jackson-Davis Elementary schools in the late fall. The choir rendered "Syncopated Clock" and "African Noel" in the Christmas program. Outstanding singers from the chorus formed a madrigal group which performed with the entire ensemble and also entertained the evaluation team.

The Ninth Grade Chorus appeared in the Spring Festival where they sang "Lacrymosa" in Latin. Judges rated the choir on their talent and their appearance as a group.

The Eighth Grade Chorus sent twenty of its best voices to the All-Regional Chorus. The representatives performed "Psalm 150" and "Three Hungarian Folk Songs." The ensemble organized a Madrigal group composed of twelve singers who made several appearances in the spring. Both the chorus and the Madrigal group performed in the school's annual Spring Concert. They offered varied selections of classical and popular music

Daddy-Daughter Game explores fathers', daughters' likes, dislikes

"What is your father's favorite drink?" FHA hostess Terry Hawks posed such questions to the daughters during the Daddy-Daughter Game — a take-off on ABC's "The Newlywed Game." The pair earning the most points won a box of lollipops. Red hearts pinned to the white tablecloths set the Valentine's Day mood for Daddy-Date Nite.

During a discussion attended by area FHA chapters, Ann Landers spoke on drugs in the home, the generation gap and pre-marital sex. Twenty-eight members heard the November lecture held at Thomas Jefferson. Following the program, the organization donated $25.00 to the MCV Adolescent Clinic recommended by Miss Landers.

FHA Week began with a movie concerning a group of young people's solution to their litter problem. As part of their clean sweep project, each club member cleaned three blocks around her neighborhood and helped chairman Kathy Talley distribute litter bags to the cars in the parking lot.

FTA mounted a publicity campaign to inform the student body of Teacher Appreciation Week March 8th — 12th. Placing apples and pencils in faculty mailboxes, members fashioned "Teacher Appreciation Week, Love Me" buttons out of felt. Thursday, the organization held a reception in the library for the instructors.

For a $1.00 an hour fee, FTA members tutored Skipwith Elementary students in all subjects. The last Tuesday of each month, the club offered their services as babysitters to the Crestview Elementary School PTA.

Latin Club entertains 'Agrippina', 'Nero' during Roman celebration

Roman gods and goddesses, famous writers and personalities from Julius Caesar's rule attended the annual Latin Club banquet celebrating the founding of Rome. Fourth year students dressed as dieties; Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Kalafatis attended the fête attired as Nero and Agrippina. Auctioned to the pizza-eating revelers as slaves, first year students waited on tables.

Observing Saturnalia— a Roman holiday comparable to Christmas and honoring Saturn, the father of the gods— members gave Mrs. Patricia Pace a party. The club organized javelin and discus throwing contests.

In mid-October, Spanish students attended a performance by folk singer Jose Malena. Appearing at the Mosque, Malena and his Madrid dance troupe executed folk dances to Latin music.

Mrs. Shirley Torstrick, a former resident of Chile, spoke to the Spanish Club. Pointing out the differences between American and Chilean traditions, she explained the old custom of changing the woman's shawl color to indicate her marital status.

Reading Airport as one of their monthly projects, the Literary Club invited Mrs. Sue Cook to discuss the book at their February 25th meeting. Mrs. Cook spoke on the plot structure, characterization, and author's style. In late November, a road company presentation of "1776" provided an opportunity for members to view a modern theatrical production. Ten attended a matinee performance at the Mosque.

During Christmas vacation, the group went caroling in Skipwith Farms. A party, held at Vice-President Ann Raulfs' house, ended the evening.

"You've got a right to read, don't blow it!" the theme for National Library Week April 18-24, appeared on posters distributed by the Ti-Li Club. In conjunction with the observance, the organization sponsored a "fine free" week which allowed students to return overdue books without the two cent per day penalty.

Drawing its membership from library assistants, the club processed new books, recorded daily circulation, and aided in inventory. Responsibility for the library bulletin boards rested with the group, Tucker's newest service organization.

pecial Education, Physical Education

Driver education receives 'castle,' driving range

Batting at a piñata filled with uit-flavored hard candy, special ducation students shattered the aily decorated crock at the hristmas party. The pupils nolded the papier maché model nto a sphere—a departure from he Mexican custom of animal or uman figures. For gifts, the tudents fashioned small piñatas n the shape of birds and roosters. he presents sported tissue paper eathers, combs, wings and tails.

A secondhand electric Singer ewing machine and typewriter ecame special education eaching aids through county donation. The county also installed a listening center with tape recorder to improve reading ability. Emphasizing vocations such as secretarial work and accounting, members from Virginia Employment Commission addressed the class.

Crossword and jigsaw puzzles, word games and health films occupied physical education students during inclement weather. On clear, warm days, pupils went for walks, played ball or exercised. Since gym classrooms could not be used, the physical education department converted the teachers' workroom - industrial arts' room 93 - and cafeterias into classes.

To advance the driver education program, several county schools—including Freeman, Henrico, and Tucker—received new equipment. Maintenance crews painted the bus loading area to simulate streets and intersections. In order to pass the driver education course, pupils must complete one semester of classroom instruction, fifteen hours in the simulator, and eight hours performing under actual road conditions.

Seeing as I'm the first to sign it. I might as well take up a lot of space! Karen, good luck in the future & if you ever need some "good" advice, just ask me. I'm always willing to give it. Don't forget the good times (& sometimes bad times) we've had in band.

Always,

Gail Bumgarner

(Extra special luck with your airplane pilot!)

To a very nice and sweet girl. Always stay that way and "Good Luck" in band; with your talent, you'll go far.

Lubs,
Claudia Nickols
Class of "73"

To someone I've none for a long time. (Former flute player!) Good luck, you've got it!

Luv ya,

To a real nice girl.
Remember "M.Y.F." & Gym.
Good luck.
